

Visiting Lecturer Positions in Civil Engineering

The Department of Engineering of School of Architecture, Engineering, Land & Environmental Sciences of Neapolis University, announces two Visiting Lecturer positions in Bachelor of Science in Civil Engineering Programme.

The Department of Engineering of School of Architecture, Engineering, Land & Environmental Sciences offers a Bachelor of Science in Civil Engineering degree recognized by the Technical Chamber of Cyprus - ETEK. The Department has openings for two Visiting Lecturers to undertake the teaching of the following courses:

1. Land Surveying
2. Soil Mechanics

Candidates should have a Ph.D. degree in the respective specialization or an MSc degree and significant experience in the respective fields. They are also required to be fluent in both the English and Greek language. Prior teaching experience and research will be considered as a plus.

How to apply

If you consider that you meet the selection criteria, please send your application at george.koutsos@nup.ac.cy. Applications must consist of the following:

- Application form (download here)
- A curriculum Vitae
- A covering letter

All applications must be received by September 15th, 2018.