RESEARCH INTERESTS

His research interests are centered along the following axes:

- Interconnection of architecture to other art forms like painting, sculpture, theatre, and mainly cinema.
These relations are sought mainly at the theoretical and structural level and not only in aesthetics.
- Study architecture as the spatial constitution of societies.
- Consider the term “architecture” as the methods and techniques by which spatial structures acquire concrete and knowable forms.
- Relating architecture to the content and structure of studies in architecture.
