

2019

Cyprus - Location

Cyprus is at the meeting point of Europe, Asia and Africa and since 2004 has been a member of the European Union, bridging Europe to the Middle East and the rest of the world. Having emerged as one of the region's leading business and financial centres, the island enjoys competitive advantages in areas such as tourism, consultancy, shipping, telecommunications, and insurance.

Pafos International Airport is approximately 20km from Neapolis University and 1.5 hours' flight time from Greece and 4.5 hours' flight time from UK airports.

A taxi from the airport to central Pafos takes only 20 minutes. Regular bus services and routes are available from Pafos Airport to Neapolis University campus, while interconnecting bus routes run throughout the city of Pafos and to all other cities on the island.

PAFOS COMBINES A RICH CULTURAL PRESENCE FROM ANCIENT TIMES UP TO THE PRESENT AND THE IMAGE OF A MODERN EUROPEAN CITY, WHILE IT IS ALSO A VERY POPULAR INTERNATIONAL TOURIST DESTINATION!

The university campus is located in Pafos, a city declared an UNESCO World Heritage Site whose history and culture stretches back into the depths of antiquity.

Furthermore, it is a modern European multi-cultural city and a well-known international tourist destination. The traces of its remarkably rich historical past blend in with the contemporary face of the city, the mild Mediterranean climate, the beautiful beaches and the well-preserved natural landscapes, as well as the vibrant and varied nightlife, the excellent transport links with other worldly cities and the wide-range of services provided, establish Pafos as an ideal place to live and study.

Throughout the year, the city and overall the district of Pafos host numerous cultural, scientific and sports events, enabling young people to get involved actively in the community. In addition, the university's cultural, social, athletic and other student clubs frequently arrange extra curriculum activities and trips, in order for students to develop their own personal interests and hobbies.

Along with the lessons of Greek as a foreign / second language, the current program also offers the ability to attend the lectures by members or non-members of the school or distinguished scientists on issues related to history, art, culture and traditions of the ancient, Hellenistic, Byzantine, modern and contemporary Greek era.

Student welfare topics of the Greek Language School:

The students of the School of Greek Language are taught Greek as a foreign / second language after their integration into sections corresponding to the level of Greek language and their learning needs. For this purpose, at the opening day of each program, qualifying examinations take place with main aim to shape teaching sections depending on the language level of students.

At the School of Greek Language there are different sections for all language levels: a) beginners (A1 & A2) b) medium (B1 & B2) c) advanced (C1 & C2) and follows the Common European Framework Reference for Language by the Council of Europe.

Modern textbooks are selected according to the educational needs of each program and the communicative method of teaching is enhanced by the use of new technologies.

Students are given the opportunity to attend remedial teaching classes either in group or individually. Studies in Greek language and Greek culture are completed by the library-reading room study and the access of each student to the media labs. For teaching purposes, the School provides the teachers and students with audiovisual material which will be accessible on the online platform (Moodle).

Neapolis University supports the Greek language teaching and culture programs by giving the students the ability of free access to the below:

- Central Library
- Student Identity
- Student discounts
- Sport facilities
- Student cafeteria / restaurant

And the possibility of cooperation with student organizations and clubs.

Lecture attendance certificates

The School of Greek Language, gives a certificate of attendance to all students of each program.

In addition, for the Erasmus students, the certificate of participation in courses of the Greek language, follows the ECTS system and complies with the conditions 1 ECTS / 30 hours of teaching, participation in lectures and seminars.

Examination of the Greek Language Certificate

If the students wish, after the completion of the courses, they may take the Greek language exam of the Examination' Service of the Cyprus Ministry of Education and Culture. Students who manage to succeed, are given Performance Certificates, mentioning their final grades and the language proficiency level.

1st International Summer school of Greek Language, History and Culture

The Modern Greek Course

The Summer School of Greek Language, History and Culture of Neapolis University is addressed to young people from Cyprus, Greece, Greek diaspora as well as to international students, between 14-40 years old, who wish to make an introduction and deepen their knowledge on the Greek Language, History and Culture.

The courses will be held at Neapolis University Pafos in Cyprus, and will take place for one or two weeks between 13th to 26th July 2019 or 3rd to 16th August 2019. Academics from Neapolis University and experienced/qualified associates (professors, researchers, instructors etc); will be teaching. The weekly program of the Summer School will include guided tours of the island's cultural attractions, experiential activities and excursions.

The program includes:

1. Lectures and experimental seminars focusing on ancient, medieval, modern and contemporary Greek and Cypriot history, Modern Greek and Cypriot poetry and literature, production and understanding of written and spoken language, as well as Cypriot traditional music.
2. Two all – day tours with guides in Pafos and Limassol. Among other things, visits will be made: a) to the Pafos Archaeological Museum, b) Pafos Archaeological Park with the famous mosaics, c) Aphrodite's Baths, d) Palaepafos-Kouklia Museum, e) Tombs of the Kings, f) The Kourion Archaeological site, g) The Kolossi Medieval Castle, h) The Limassol Medieval Museum, i) Amathus Archaeological Site, and many other monuments.
3. After the course, students will be able to freely form their program, e.g. visiting beaches, sightseeing, etc.

Lessons will be held during morning time, from Monday to Friday between 08:00-13:30 and cultural activities will take place during the afternoon.

Teaching will be divided into seven fields:

- Teaching the Greek Language (for non-Greek speakers) and Greek poetry and literature (for Greek speakers)
- Teaching Greek and Cypriot History (Ancient, Byzantine, Modern)
- Teaching Archaeology, Mythology and Ancient Theatre
- Teaching Cypriot traditional dances
- Cypriot traditional music
- Robotics and Culture
- History and Culture under the umbrella of Digital Video Production

During these two weeks, an intensive Greek language course for foreign students and basic topics of Cypriot poetry and literature for Greek speakers will be provided at the School of Modern Greek.

The SGLC is an academic unit with dynamic development. Its basic aim is to promote the Greek language and culture through a combination of educational, research, as well as cultural activities. The school's mission is not solely to support the teaching of Greek as a second/foreign language, but also to provide learners with rich language and cultural experiences.

During these two weeks, participants will have the opportunity to acquire some basic vocabulary and useful expressions in Modern Greek.

They will also have the opportunity to get acquainted with the contemporary Greek and Cypriot culture and way of life. Classes will combine the teaching of the language with the immersion in the Greek culture; to this aim, thematic and cultural workshops will be organized and provided in order to give participants a taste of the contemporary life in Cyprus.

The teaching staff of the SGLC is highly qualified and has a long experience both in teaching and in material design for learners of Greek at all levels, as well as for learners with specific language needs.

So the classes provided will be adapted and aim to enable the participants of the summer school to acquire survival Greek for basic communicative purposes and related to their own individual needs.

Terms and Requirements

Admission procedures

The summer school welcomes applications from candidates over 14 years old.

Students interested in applying to the summer school should complete the online Application Form.

The application deadline is June 15th, 2019. However, applications are reviewed as soon as they are received and suitable applicants are accepted immediately. A short interview (in person, by phone or via Skype) and/or reference letters (e-mails will suffice) may be requested. The school reserves the right to verify any of the information provided in

Currency and Local Expenditures:

As a member of the European Union (EU) Cyprus adopted the Euro (€) – updated information on Euro exchange can be easily found online. Participants will not incur any additional fees during the summer school but they may wish to bring spending money to purchase souvenirs, gifts and other personal items. Money may be exchanged at the Central Bank of Cyprus, exchange agencies or simply withdrawn at local ATMs. Major credit cards are widely accepted, but small establishments may accept only cash.

Visas:

Non-European and non-Schengen citizens are highly encouraged to read and review information relevant to traveling to Cyprus posted on the Visas for Foreigners traveling to Cyprus.

Health and medical information:

In case of students with medical conditions and/or special needs, a specialist's note will be required. In order to guarantee safety and proper intervention in case of emergency, medical history information must be included in the physician's note. Such information will be treated with absolute confidentiality and will not be disclosed to any third party unless required to safeguard the student's health. All students enrolled in the field school must have a valid international medical insurance for the entire duration of their stay in Cyprus.

Travel Information:

Students who arrived and depart are responsible for arranging their own transportation to Pafos (Cyprus). The closest airport is located in Pafos (PFO), but some students may have to fly to Larnaca (LCA) first and take a bus or an airplane to Pafos. On Monday, 9th of July, the meeting point will be at the Reception Area at 08.00 a.m. Participants are kindly requested to email us in case of any unexpected problems or difficulties. On Saturday 26th of July and 16th of August, participants will choose their own way of departure. There is only one bus going to the Pafos airport (Bus Line No 613) and only one bus going to the Larnaca airport (Bus Line No 649).

CLARIFICATIONS:

1. Groups should not exceed 15 people each in any case.

2. Upon completion of the course, students will receive a certificate that will evaluate their performance. Students who are absent for more than 1/3 of the courses will not receive a Certificate.

3. In the Library of the University (located in the same building as that in which the lessons will be held), students will find a rich collection of the dictionaries and aids, as well as books that have as their content the history, language and culture of Greece and Cyprus. Also, in the University's computer rooms, the students can work using the compact discs that accompany the books.

4. For the accommodation of the students, double rooms in the University Campus will be available. No extra payment is required for the accommodation while it is included within the school costs.
