Doctoral and Postgraduate Research Seminar

2025 Edition

The Jean Monnet Center of Excellence AI-2-TRACE-CRIME at Neapolis University Pafos, Cyprus, is pleased to invite you to its 2025 Doctoral and Postgraduate Research Seminar titled "From Research Question to Dissertation: The Researcher in the Era of New Technologies and AI". The event is supported by the NUP UNESCO Chair and the UNITWIN/UNESCO Network "Human Rights and Governance: The Rights, Individuals and Communities faced with the new challenges of a Globalized World in Crisis".

Date: Wednesday 14 May 2025, 19:30-21:30

Location: Online via Microsoft Teams, use this link

Structure of the event: The keynote speaker for this event will be Associate Professor Georgios Pavlidis, who will deliver a presentation on the theme "From Research Question to Dissertation: Legal Research in International and EU Law in the Age of AI Tools". His address will be followed by structured discussions, information and tips. The session will open up to a discussion and audience Q&A.

Objective of the event: The 2025 edition of the Doctoral and Postgraduate Research Seminar aims to explore how technological advances and artificial intelligence are reshaping the practice of legal research and the role of researchers in international and EU law. The seminar will focus on the ethical, methodological, and practical implications of these developments, with particular attention to the use of AI tools in framing research questions, engaging with legal sources, and producing academic writing. By bringing together postgraduate students, PhD candidates, early-career researchers, and academic staff, the event seeks to foster critical engagement, promote interdisciplinary dialogue, and enhance awareness of the opportunities and challenges that AI technologies present for legal research.
